Global Online Retail Client: May 2023

OVERVIEW

I worked with a team of nearly 500 writers to produce over half a million prompts and completions within a three-month period for a large language model (LLM) project with a major online retailer.

THE CHALLENGE:

Our team was tasked with writing a series of prompt and completion articles on various topics while adhering to various style guidelines and adapting to everchanging dev requests.

THE SCOPE OF WORK:

- I wrote over 20 long form prompt and completion articles in various categories: generate, instructional, and continuation rewrite.

- After the writing portion of our project was finished, I acted as a prompt and completion revision editor and completed over 200 article edits within the UI tool in just under two weeks.